Ord. No. 12-127
O 12-127 Amend Zoning Map re 5715 5735 and 5751 Darrow Rd (01267985-2) am

Mr. Hartford Harding, 1510 Barlow Road, said that he and his wife own property and live directly adjacent to the wooded area proposed as a conservation easement. He said that they would be severely impacted by changes to the wooded area, he was adamantly opposed to expansion of the commercial zoning beyond the wooded area, and he supported a conservation easement in perpetuity.

Mrs. Sharon Butina, 1431 Winchell Drive, recalled being devastated upon hearing of the proposed rezoning and upset thinking of its impacts of property depreciation and lowered quality of life for her family. She said she considered selling her home and moving, but she was encouraged by discussions among residents, City officials and Collection Auto Group representatives. She was supportive of the dealership and looked forward to the business being a long-time neighbor, but she said that residents seek a permanent conservation easement, and she asked for Council's support. She was opposed to the proposed rezoning request and asked that Council table Ordinance No. 12-127 to provide more time for the involved parties to reach an agreeable solution.

Mr. Robert Schwieterman, 5732 Argyle Drive, said he lives just north of the subject property. While he was glad that Collection Auto Group has chosen to locate in Hudson, he felt that if the zoning request is approved, the conservation easement should be made permanent to prevent future changes in use and should measure one hundred feet to protect surrounding residential properties.

Mr. Richard Kelley, 1439 Winchell Drive, thanked City Council members for spending the time to consider residents' input and thanked Collection Auto Group officials. He said that Mr. Bernie Moreno is not the typical car guy, and neighbors look forward to the business coming to town. In the spirit of cooperation, he recognized the open dialog and common though slightly different interests among residents, the business, and the City. He said that area residents are willing to collaborate as long as there are assurances of a permanent conservation easement. He acknowledged Land Development Code set-back requirements for dealership and service center uses. He said that the goal of residents is to minimize the impact to their property values, and he encouraged continued dialog with residents. He said that Collection Auto Group has started Phase 1 under current zoning with an applicable variance. As the proposed zoning change applies only to Phase 2, he asked that Council table Ordinance No. 12-127.

A public hearing was held.

6. Public Comments

None.

7. Correspondence and Council Comments

Mr. Basil thanked Mr. Sheridan for participating in the Ward 2 Open Forum on October 30, 2012.

Mr. Basil said that there are a number of volunteer opportunities for residents to serve on various meeting bodies, including the Board of Zoning & Building Appeals, Cable TV Advisory Committee, Cemetery Board, Environmental Awareness Committee, Golf Advisory Board, Park Board, Personnel Advisory & Appeals Board, and Planning Commission. He encouraged interested citizens to apply on line or contact the Clerk of Council.

Mr. Basil addressed citizen comments made during the public hearing for Ordinance No. 12-127. He said that City Council has strived to keep communications open throughout the process. He asked that Resolution No. 12-148 be introduced and read tonight with the intent of recognizing and addressing the residents' concerns regarding permanency of the conservation easement and to provide that any easement change would be subject to approval of the abutting landowners. He said that copies will be made available to residents.

Mr. DeSaussure said that Resolution No. 12-148 addresses resident concerns by providing the ability for four out of six residents to stop the termination of the conservation easement. He explained that a conservation easement is an agreement and can be changed by definition upon the agreement of the parties, and that dynamic has not changed. He felt that the proposed language is very generous, and while he understood the concerns of residents, he said that Collection Auto Group has been extremely accommodating. He said that Council must act on the rezoning request, Ordinance No. 12-127.

Dr. Williams agreed with Mr. DeSaussure and read from Resolution No. 12-148, Exhibit A, Deed on Conservation Easement, Section 17 regarding Termination/Amendment. He noted that this language gives the six abutting property owners control of termination of the easement. He felt that Collection Auto Group has been very accommodating. He said that with this change, he was very comfortable that everyone will benefit.

Mr. Kelemen inquired of the process for action on Resolution No. 12-148. Mayor Currin explained that the Resolution will be given a first reading tonight, and a Council member could motion to suspend and pass this legislation. Mr. Hunt explained that Resolution 12-148 and the conservation easement is tied to the Site Plan. He said that Ordinance No.

12-127 is actionable tonight.

Mr. Basil agreed that Collection Auto Group has worked remarkably well to be accommodating. He asked if Council has the ability to table Ordinance 12-127, and Mr. Richardson said that Council must take action within 20 days of public hearing. Mr. Hunt added that an extension can be granted by the applicant. Mr. Basil said that he intends to table Ordinance No. 12-127 until the November 19, 2012, meeting.

Mr. Wooldredge agreed with Mr. DeSaussure and felt that Collection Auto Group has been very accommodating. He said he wants the dealership to succeed and was pleased that they have chosen to locate in Hudson. He felt that proposed Resolution 12-148 provides the assurance sought by residents.

Mr. Hanink voiced appreciation to City electric crews for keeping the lights on. In light of recent storm damage, he felt that Hudson residents were very fortunate compared to residents elsewhere. Mayor Currin agreed, noting that Hudson fared much better due to the City's emergency planning and investments in infrastructure. In addition, he said that City crews provided assistance in mutual aid situations.

8. Report of Manager

Mr. Bales thanked the Mayor and Mr. Hanink for their comments, and he said that Mr. Schroyer was responsible for management planning and response to the recent storm.

Regarding Resolution 12-148, Mr. Bales said that he had e-mailed the Deed of Conservation Easement to Mr. Kelley, and he asked that Mr. Kelley distribute the document to his neighbors. In addition, residents may obtain copies from the Clerk.

Mr. Bales reminded Council members of the special workshop meetings scheduled to discuss the Five-Year Plan and the 2013 Budget, the first of which is scheduled on November 14, 2012.

Mr. Bales requested an executive session at the end of the meeting to discuss contract negotiations and imminent court action.
