Alicia could you please include these pictures with the information on our project and for the consultant.

Larry mentioned that the current siding is considered an 8 inch reveal however wood siding is imperfect and does not always meet the full 8 inches. Mark and I measured a number of areas on all three sides of the house and found this to be true on many pieces. Here is a sampling of some we found. Note the Hardi plank is not a beveled siding so measurements were taken as a straight drop to compare to the 7 inch Hardi plank reveal we proposed. Also as a reminder Alan mentioned he may be able to stretch the Hardi plank reveal a fraction when installed as well. The pictures did not attach through in order, here are the measurements for each picture below in their appearance order.

#2 is 7 1/2" Reveal

#3 is 7 1/2"

#4 is 7 1/2"

#5 is 7 5/8"

#1 is 7 1/4"
