Twinsburg: In March 2019 the city approved a three-year trash and recyclables contract with Waste Management. The company had previously had a five-year contract with the city. The city pays Waste Management directly. Waste Management provides trash and recycling bins. The city paid Waste Management about $1.18 million in 2018 and that figure increased by 3 percent in 2019. The monthly rate for solid waste collection per home was $9.26 in 2019, rising to $9.54 in 2021. Waste Management will pick up one large item a week. Other items should be broken down to four-foot lengths. Six bags of yard waste are permitted each week. The current rate for recycling per home would be increased by 42 cents to $2.83 in 2019, with the rate increasing to $2.91 per home in 2020 and $3 in 2021. Of that 42 cents, 23 cents is a recycling offset fee intended to help defray the cost of removing recycling contamination and processing recyclables, as well as the reduced value of recycling commodities. Commencing Dec. 1, 2019, and each Dec. 1 thereafter, the parties would negotiate any further increases or decreases in the recycling offset fee based upon market conditions at that time. Waste Management officials said the recycling offset fee is being added because of China's ban on import of certain products generated by the global recycling industry and the 0.5 percent contamination limits. The city offers large recycling bins, which it suggests be used for cardboard, behind the school buses next to Chamberlin Middle School.

Waste Management (Hudson) - $60.50 quarter for trash pickup; $88.73 a quarter for trash and recycling. They provide a 95-gallon tote for trash and a 64-gallon tote for recyclables. If you are starting new service, there is a $52.25 onetime charge for the containers. New customers get a lidded recycle container but those who have the open recycle bins (which all my neighbors have) can continue to use those. They are not required to change them. They do not do yard waste pickup. Bulk items are $35 each and if you stick out more than one it is $35 for the first one and $15 for each additional one. The website says it recycles glass.
Kimble (Hudson)- charges $18.00 a week for one 96 gal bin or $19.25 for a 96 gal bin and 3 bags of trash or 1 bulk item. Recycling is $1.50 per week + fees for a 70 gal bin. The fees are about 1.25 week. So I pay $20.75 for basic trash and recycling, and Kimble takes all colors of glass, paper, cardboard, metal cans and plastic #1 and #2.
AA (Hudson)- $24 a month, which includes recycling, of plastic carboard and metal. They provide a bin if you want, but generally everyone uses their own cans for trash and recycling, mainly because they don't like the big bins. They would be "flexible" with yard waste and bulk - call and they might charge a few dollars more depending on the nature of the pickup
