Purpose & Explanation

The American Public Power Association's RP3 program recognizes public power utilities that demonstrate exceptional standards in proficiency, reliability, safety, staff development and system improvements. The program is grounded in sound business practices and industry recognized best practices. The RP3 designation is a work in progress achievement with the commitment of continued improvement in the management and operations of municipal electric systems.

Hudson Public Power staff received notification in April 2015 that the City of Hudson's municipal electric service division had received the APPA RP3 Gold membership. The HPP staff is looking forward to continued program efforts and the achievement of both the Platinum and Diamond level memberships in the future.
